L. Clayton, of the men's department of the Popular Dry Goods company, who is lying in Hotel Dieu with injuries to the back of his head, several broken or bruised ribs in his right side and a gash in his face. The identity of the machine, or the person who occupied it, is a mystery.

Clayton, who lives at 255 East Rio Grande street, had started down town to mail a letter, according to his statement Wednesday morning, when he was struck by the car just as he stepped off the curb at Boulevard and El Paso streets. He was glancing at his watch when the car, evidently with its engine stopped, coasted down the hill, struck him. He was picked up, placed in the car and taken home.

Clayton found him lying in a bloody and semi-conscious state on the floor at about 5:45 o'clock and called for assistance. At about 11 o'clock Clayton was taken to Hotel Dieu, where his injuries are said to be not serious.

WHEAT FLOUR SHORTAGE

When El Paso's Supply Runs Out, Only Bakers Will Be Able to Buy.

When the present supply of wheat flour in El Paso is exhausted there will be no more of it available except for the bakers. This decision was made by the state food administrator after it was learned there would not be enough flour available until the next crop is harvested, to supply bakers and others.

At a meeting of the Master Bakers' association of El Paso, held at Hotel Sheldon, Tuesday afternoon, district administrator C. N. Bassett announced that local bakers would continue to make bread at the old rate, 75 percent wheat flour and 25 percent substitute.

The bakers stated at the meeting that it was difficult to make good bread out of the soft wheat flour that is being supplied locally. Most of them, however, said they were willing to be inconvenienced and would do all in their power to assist in the conservation of flour.

Flour To Be Proportioned.

Flour will be proportioned to the business they are doing. It is urged of the bakers that they make no effort to extend their business. Mr. Bassett submitted a written statement to the bakers in which he outlined the reasons why he did not want the bakers to extend their business. A more comprehensive statement from the state food administrator has been asked for by the bakers, with reference to the use of wheat flour and it is expected that this will be received in a few days.

Mr. Bassett's statement to the bakers follows:

Texas Voluntarily Wheatless.

Texas has voluntarily gone on wheatless. Just as far as our ability will permit. It has been often repeated in the last few months that the wheatless plan was a failure. This country is that much more devoted to the use of the wheat. The world, however, is not so devoted. Wheat is rapidly diminishing the supply of flour until it is vitally necessary for every patriotic man and woman of this country to conserve the use of any flour products until the next harvest.

"El Paso has about a double reserve as much and more than any other city of like size in Texas, probably in the United States, but I am confident that the new wheat crop will be used up before it is needed by those who can possibly do without it, will be cheerfully relinquished."

Flour Here 1,250,000 Pounds.

The wholesalers of El Paso have on hand in transit 1,250,000 pounds of flour. This includes flour of all grades, low and high grade, hard and soft.

This present supply must be sold to the retailers and bakers. After this is exhausted there will be no more flour sold to the retailer. The wholesaler will purchase flour that is sacked in 48 and 70 pound sacks and for bakers use only until next harvest. Under these circumstances every retailer is strongly urged and requested to sell his present supply of flour to those who are using it only for invalids, children and babies.

Save Bakers to Economy.

The bakers, under this rule, will be forced to the use of soft wheat flour, but can continue their business. Every flour will be made to secure supplies for them to keep their business running. It is realized by the food administration that they are absolutely necessary to a great portion of the consumers. Bakers are urged to make no effort to extend their business. Any effort to increase their trade will be rigorously suppressed.

Retailers are especially requested, and expected, to prove to their satisfaction that wheat flour is not sold to persons who are perfectly well and able to do without it. As stated above the supply is only to go to those to whom it is absolutely necessary.

Public Must Acquiesce.

The public must realize that these regulations are put into effect for reasons of absolute necessity, and the retailers should immediately report to the food administrator any consumer or purchaser who object to performing this patriotic duty and insist upon their regular supply of wheat flour. It is to be hoped that no such reports will be made in this office, and I confidently believe that a great majority of our citizens will realize that this is no hardship and no privation and will gladly enter into the spirit of voluntary contribution to our allies. Those who do not welcome these regulations may possibly fail to do their duty through ignorance.

"Those who willfully and defiantly insist upon receiving their full ration of wheat flour, while their neighbor patriotically refuses to accept any portion of wheat flour, are not true to themselves, their neighbor, their country or their country's allies."

Ten Mile Zone Law's Validity Being Attacked

Test Case Is Brought By Ft. Worth Man to Test Constitutionality Of Law.

Austin, Texas, April 17.—Constitutionality of the ten mile zone law of the late special session of the legislature is assailed in an application for a writ of habeas corpus filed today in the court of criminal appeals, in the case of exporte G. C. Hollingsworth, from Tarrant county. Hollingsworth was arrested at Fort Worth, charged with selling a quart of liquor to a civilian and under the provisions of this law he was placed in jail. His application filed today claims he is being illegally restrained of his liberty as the act is unconstitutional.

Seven other reasons are assigned, attacking the constitutionality of the law. The petition claims that it is not a valid exercise of the police power of the state; that the caption is defective and insufficient; and that Congress had prior to its enactment passed a bill prohibiting the sale or gift of liquor to soldiers.

The court allowed Hollingsworth bail in the sum of $300, pending the disposition of the application for a writ of habeas corpus. It is understood that $15,000 has been raised to fight this act as a test case.

FARMERS BEGIN COUNTY BUREAU

Demonstrator Harwell and Judge McClintock Start Series of Meetings.

Plans for organizing the farmers of El Paso county was commenced Tuesday night when Roland Harwell, the newly appointed county farm demonstrator, met with the farmers of Yuleta and Socorro at the school houses at those towns. Both meetings were large and enthusiastic. At Yuleta, the county agent was introduced by county judge R. B. McClintock and spoke of the necessity of the farmers organizing in order that they could secure the maximum benefit for the demonstration service and for seed and feed.

At Socorro, the party, which included all members of the county farm demonstrator, met with the chamber of commerce, discussed the matter of securing a seed and feed station, and examined the Yuleta meeting and about 75 to 80 persons.

Committees to Check Requests.

One of the objects of the meetings was to appoint committees to receive applications for demonstration service. In Texas drought law, which provides that seed and feed shall be furnished to farmers who need them.

The committees will make an investigation of the statements made by the farmers asking for help, determine the needs of each farmer, and report to see if the farmer is competent and if the seeds and feed he asks for will be put to a good use. They will also determine if the land where the seed is asked is in a condition to be planted.

The committee appointed at Yuleta is composed of F. W. Wainwright, D. L. Forster and Catalina Pedregon; at Socorro, P. R. Beck, Miguel Chavez and A. Apodaca were named.

To Organize Whole County.

Mr. Harwell will visit other parts of the county this week and have similar committees appointed in all of the towns he visits. When all of the committees have been appointed they will meet together and arrange for the organization of the farmers into districts.

Thursday night the farmers of Clint and San Elmarie will meet. Friday they will at Fabena and Saturday at Camblito and Anthony. The meetings will be held in the school houses in each of the towns. The meetings will all be short, because Mr. Harwell said there is but a short time left for the organization of the farmers before it will be too late for any real good to come this season.

WANTS WORLD TO KNOW OF IT

Barton gladly comes out for Tanlac after what it's done for him.

"So many people were praising Tanlac that I decided to try it too, and it has done me so much good that I am glad to come out for it, and tell the world what a wonderful medicine it is," recently said John A. Barton, a well-known old time resident who lives at 2509 Trinidad Street, Dallas, Texas.

"Six years ago," he continued, "I was a strong and healthy man for my age as anybody, but my stomach got all out of fix, and I started down hill night after night. I lost my appetite, and what little I forced down, I found my stomach to hurt and swell so with gas that I could hardly get my breath, and felt like I was about to smother. I was badly constipated and my kidneys worried me so much that I was really something serious was the matter. I lost considerable weight, and although I was constantly taking some kind of preparation trying to get relief, I got worse instead of better."

"When I started on Tanlac I really didn't expect it to do very much for me, but the way it began to straighten me out right at the start was a big surprise. It has toned up my stomach, my appetite has returned, and I am hearty and my digestion seems to be normal again. I am not troubled with shortness of breath like I was, my liver is active, I have been relieved of constipation and am feeling better all over than I have in a long time. When my sons saw what Tanlac was doing for me, they went to taking it too, and now they can't praise it enough."

Tanlac is sold in El Paso by Kelly, Fullard Co., Inc., and People's Drug Store, under personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.
